WELFARE OF PRISONERS IS OBJECT OF ACTION

Ambassador Gerard Directed to Make Inquiries of Berlin at British Request.

Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, has been instructed by the State Department to call upon agents of the embassy looking after the interests of the allied prisoners in Germany to report what measures of reprisal the German government is taking upon English prisoners in return for the treatment which the British government has accorded to captured crews of German submarines.

This action was taken at the request of the British government, directed to Ambassador Page in London.

As the State Department already has undertaken to meet a request of the German government to learn the German conditions under which the German submarine crews are now held in England, it is believed American investigators will be given full opportunity to make similar inquiries in Germany.

In the absence of knowledge, it is inferred, exaggerated reports have reached Germany regarding the treatment of captured German submarine sailors in England.

German Prisoners in England.

Members of the American embassy in London who are looking after the welfare of the German prisoners have made no report, but it is understood no special hardships are being suffered by these prisoners. They have not been granted the same measure of liberty in the prison inclosures as other German prisoners, but aside from rather strict confinement to quarters it is not known that any different conditions exist in their case.

The British government has made no promise regarding the final disposal of the submarine crews, however, and the State Department has taken notice of a demand in some quarters in England for their punishment as pirates, because of alleged disregard for the lives of non-combatants in their campaign against merchant shipping. This is understood to have prompted the German threat of reprisal to which Great Britain has now drawn attention.

Effort to Standardize Treatment.

The American embassy at Berlin now has ten special attaches whose sole business is to look after the allied prisoners in German prison camps. Their reports have shown that the prisoners fared as well as could be expected. The State Department is making every effort to standardize the treatment of prisoners in all of the belligerent countries, and it was said by officials that the governments concerned had agreed to make arrangements to be removed soon and that when all countries understand that humane treatment is accorded prisoners by all belligerents the situation will be greatly relieved.

Colleges and Schools Approve.

"Practically all of the medical colleges and schools of nursing of the country have expressed their approval of our plan and have offered to co-operate with us. While the medical profession generally has unselfishly assisted the nation-wide campaign against this disease, we feel because of its prevalence, tuberculosis should be given special attention by medical students and practicing physicians everywhere.

"No other single disease demands so much time and attention from the general practitioner in his practice. We shall try to make it easy for any doctor or nurse to acquire a specialized knowledge of tuberculosis."

Charles Fisher Found Dead After Touching Conductors at Electric Plant.

Charles Fisher, fifty-seven years old, 1217 Potomac street northwest, was found dead in a small inclosure at the plant of the Potomac Electric Power Company, 33d and K streets northwest, about 6 o'clock this morning. He had placed his hands on electric wires carrying 13,000 volts and was instantly killed.

Coroner Nevitt viewed the body, made an investigation and said he thought the circumstances suggested that Fisher had touched the wires purposely. Relatives contended that death resulted from an accident, and the coroner decided to have a jury determine the question at an inquest that is to be held tomorrow morning.

Fisher had been employed by the Georgetown Ice Manufacturing Company, only a short distance from the electric plant, and it is said, he was familiar with the latter plant and probably knew of the danger in the small inclosure, where there is a large transformer.

In order to reach the five wires leading to the transformer, it is stated, he had to elevate himself and reach some distance above his head.

Said He Was Ill.

The police were told that Fisher left home only about ten minutes before his body was found. Both hands were terribly burned and charred and his fingers twisted. Fisher, it is stated, told a relative yesterday afternoon that he was not feeling well and said he doubted if he would ever be able to work again. He said nothing about contemplating self-destruction, however, the police were told.

Coroner Nevitt permitted the body to be taken to Wise's undertaking establishment, where it will be viewed by the jury tomorrow morning. Fisher is survived by his wife. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

TO SEEK CO-OPERATION IN WHITE PLAGUE FIGHT

National Association Planning Movement for Physicians and Nurses.

For the purpose of securing more co-operation from physicians and nurses in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has inaugurated a movement to bring the importance of this subject to the attention of these two groups, according to an announcement made from headquarters today.

Among the first things which the association is trying to do is to induce the medical colleges and schools of nursing to give more instruction, particularly of a clinical nature, on tuberculosis. An effort will be made also to reach the individual practitioners and nurses by special booklets prepared for this purpose.

For Broader Training.

"The clinical and other facilities of the various organizations affiliated with the national association will, as far as possible, be made available for the widest possible use in training doctors and nurses in tuberculosis work.

"The object of this campaign," says Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the national association, "is primarily to secure more accurate and earlier diagnosis of tuberculosis on the part of physicians and to show nurses the great opportunities of service in the home care of tuberculosis patients. We shall also be able to put the average family physician in touch with the best methods of treating tuberculosis, and with the most recent literature on that subject, thereby affording to the general public increased protection from this disease."
